resin, bond together to form an incredibly strong matrix. The result is a bath that is extremely strong, durable and easy to maintain.

Victoria+Albert baths are perfect for residential and hospitality projects. These baths are available in contemporary and classical styles and will fit nicely into different bathroom design themes.

The Equip-Bathrooms Company is the Authorised Distributor of Victoria+Albert in Singapore and Indonesia.

Victoria+Albert held a VIP reception at the PARKROYAL on Pickering last November. This exclusive event was attended by many of Singapore's top Architects and Designers who were able to experience first-hand the latest Victoria+Albert luxury volcanic limestone baths on display.

The main attraction was the beautiful Amiata collection of bath and basins designed by Sandro Meneghello and Marco Paoletti. The Amiata bath and basin are unique and striking pieces, with elegant proportions and sophisticated detailing.

Victoria+Albert baths are made of QUARRYCAST®, derived from Volcanic Limestone. The material Volcanic Limestone is the product of natural heat and pressure below the surface of the earth. Huge elemental forces change the rock's structure, forming hard strands, which when mixed with

PRODUCTION AND RESEARCH

High quality German acrylic bathtubs arrive in South East Asia

Cast sanitary acrylic is a thoroughly homogeneous, very strong material. It serves as the basis for our comprehensive bath and shower range. It can only be moulded from a temperature of 180°C upwards, and with the help of precise aluminium moulds, it is given its future shape. Each bathtub is then carefully further processed and checked in order to reach our defined high standards of quality.

The Equip-Bathrooms Company is pleased to announce that Repabad's range of high quality German acrylic bathtubs is now available in Singapore and Indonesia.

"With a selection of over 120 different bath tub models, we have one of the most comprehensive acrylic bathtub ranges in terms of comfort, design and quality. To satisfy every wish, nearly all of our bathtubs can be individualised using options from the field of entertainment and wellness."
